

Horticulture & Golf Course Management

The curriculum for the Horticulture and Golf Course Management program will develop skills in: golf course grounds and clubhouse management, sports fields, lawn care, nursery, and garden center management, greenhouse production and landscape management practices as well as business and personnel development practices. Students will learn the effect of the environment and cultural practices on plant growth and development. Emphasis will be on plant identification, pest identification, and proper selection of plant materials. Students will gain hands-on experience in labs and classes held at a local 18-hole golf course, a unique experience that very few colleges can supply. The students will supplement classroom activities and gain work experience in the horticulture industry of their choice through the cooperative internship.
